

Dear friends,

2019 was the year in which we worked across many borders – both real and imagined – including institutional ones, in our common, global endeavour for an education for freedom, focused on the growing child and young person and the becoming human being.

Then, in 2020, came a major setback that persists. This health crisis has, at times, been accompanied by a narrowing of perspectives to the immediate periphery. In many countries the Corona crisis became an existential threat to Waldorf kindergartens, Waldorf schools and therapeutic education institutions. An important support was the Joint Action: Corona Aid, through which the Friends of Waldorf Education and the German Waldorf School Movement, along with many donors, foundations and organisations, provided active help and demonstrated practical worldwide solidarity.

This common consciousness is also the theme of the new website, SteinerWaldorf.World.

We want to use Waldorf 100 to connect and continue to make the worldwide network of Waldorf institutions more visible. SteinerWaldorf.World will be the first shared home page for all internationally active Waldorf organisations.

The central and connecting element of SteinerWaldorf.World is an interactive world map. We invite all Waldorf schools, Waldorf kindergartens, educational seminars, national associations, as well as therapeutic education and social therapy institutions, to introduce themselves and their work on this 'world map'. In this way we will take up one of the most important elements of Waldorf 100 – the call and the gesture to "join in!" At the same time the diversity of Waldorf education will be visible.

The SteinerWaldorf.World map already contains all the basic information from the current world school list. We would like to invite you to check your entries, correct them if necessary and, in any case, add photos and a short description. To do so, please find your entry on the map and edit it by clicking on the pencil icon. The changes will not be visible immediately. First, they will be checked by Christina Reinthal in the Friends of Waldorf Education office and then activated - this can sometimes take a few days. Entries can only be edited if you provide your name and email address - this allows us to see that you are authorised to edit the record. If you have any questions about your entries, please feel free to contact Christina Reinthal at entry@steinerwaldorf.world.

Thank you for your cooperation and best regards,

Henning Kullak-Ublick, Nana Göbel
